“ The MBA question has changed. It is no longer whether you can run a business, but whether you can lead organisations where technology, data and people work as one. That is the MBA we teach, from geopolitics to human-machine interaction. And it fits a working life: five entry points a year, the same classroom whether you join on campus or online, up to seven optional specialisations, and a journey you can extend into a second MBA with Porto Business School.”

Dean of Postgraduate Programmes and International Development

Apply the appropriate technical, methodological, and intellectual skills that have been developed to a business plan for an existing business. The plan is devised in consultation with and supervised by a staff advisor.

THESIS

Students will work with entrepreneurs and simulators, led by an experienced tutor, to use emerging technologies to develop innovative solutions and then use IP strategies to protect the new business venture. Students develop a 3-year stage-gate execution plan to transform the opportunity from an idea to a viable new technology venture.

BUSINESS & TECH, GLOBAL MINDSET OR GOOD CITIZENSHIP STRATEGY + INTERNSHIP / INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

A double MBA available

Two Credentials, One Journey

UBI MBA students have the professional privilege to graduate with two MBAs, combining UBI’s Executive MBA (delivered in collaboration with Middlesex University London) with Porto Business School’s Executive MBA. This pathway lets you hold two recognised credentials, strengthening your international profile and signalling executive readiness to employers. Built on curricular synergies and credit recognition, it is far more time- and cost-efficient than pursuing two separate programmes — while still delivering meaningful international exposure and network expansion.

WHY DOUBLE, NOT DUAL?

A dual degree usually splits one programme across two schools, resulting in a single, shared qualification. A double MBA is different: you earn two distinct, standalone MBA credentials — each carrying the full weight of its own institution’s accreditation.
